

When searching for the perfect holiday gift, be sure to take a look at what Cane River Pecan Company has to offer. The gourmet flavored pecans and sweet pecan treats they offer are second to none. Supplying pecans and other gifts to a nation-wide customer base is no small task, especially during the busy holiday season. Ordering, packing, and shipping are all handled in-house; and during the holiday season, thousands of orders may be processed each day. Needless to say, Cane River management doesn't have spare time for difficulties with their computer network and the workstations employees use daily.

That's why Cane River signed up for a Managed Services Agreement with Provation Technologies. Now, the employees of Cane River don't have to spend valuable time working on their IT infrastructure, the security of their information, or the reliability of their workstations. Provation Technologies manages all of this while working closely with Cane River's management and its employees to be sure that the company's technology is working at its best and is suited to Cane River's particular needs. With dependable information technology in place, Cane River can focus on shipping gifts like their most popular Roasted & Salted, Milk Chocolate-Covered and Praline Pecan Trio (as pictured left) and other delicious gifts to customers around the world.

"Provation's management of IT has freed up valuable time and has been essential in the growth and development process here at Cane River," said Jady Regard, owner of Cane River Pecan Company.

Provation's managed services agreements, backup services, and hardware consulting can assist you in discovering new ways to improve and develop your business. You know that your time is valuable. If you have the choice, why spend costly time managing your IT environment when there are so many other pressing demands? Partnering with Provation Technologies can help drive your business' success by freeing up some of your time and ensuring your IT is doing its part. In 1969, Dan Regard began farming pecans along the banks of this famous river. Years later, he opened the Cane River Pecan Company store on historic Front Street in downtown Natchitoches as an outlet to sell his Louisiana pecans straight from the orchard.

Since that time, the Cane River Pecan Company has grown to offer a variety of gourmet flavored pecans and an assortment of sweet pecan treats.
